Course/Module description:

The course aims to inquire into new interpretations of Italian Fascism, and will expose students to new perspectives in current research. These new currents have challenged some more traditional approaches to Fascism that, especially in postwar Italian historiography, tried to "mitigate" the record of Italian Fascism by presenting it as a less murderous and less totalitarian regime, compared to Nazi Germany. Following the lead of the preeminent scholar in the field, Emilio Gentile, the proposed course will explore Italian Fascism along a range of issues, including its nationalist, revolutionary, anti-liberal and anti-Marxist, imperialist and racist aspects.

Course/Module aims:

To provide students with an overview of one of the most important and foundation periods in world history.

To develop analytic tools for understanding the relation between historical phenomenon represented by Italian Fascism and its deep relation with question related to national questions and to the process of modernizations showing how their interaction is the product socio-historical, religious and political changes.

Learning outcomes - On successful completion of this module, students should be able to:

To master the broad corpus of chosen sources that will be tackled along the course.

To describe and to differentiate among the different sources and the different disciplines to which the same sources belong.

To enable analyzes, to develop critical questions, to recognize the different genres of corpus of study.

To compare texts by different authors and from different genres.

To criticize, evaluate, interpret the scientific articles of the different authors and to explain their meaning in the context of the discussion.
