Course/Module description:

In this course we will read a selection from the masterpieces of South Asian civilization.

Course/Module aims:

The purpose of this seminar is to familiarize the students with South Asian civilization through a selection of literary works in several languages (primarily from the classical Sanskrit tradition), to understand these works in their cultural context, and most importantly to enjoy reading from some of the world's greatest literary masterpieces.

Learning outcomes - On successful completion of this module, students should be able to:

To become familiar with South Asian culture and literature, to enjoy reading great literary masterpieces, and to become exposed to cultures other than the student's own.

Attendance requirements(%):

85%

Teaching arrangement and method of instruction: Seminar

Course/Module Content:

The course is to be divided, roughly, to four separate parts. In the first, we will sample from the great Sanskrit epics, the Mahābhārata and the Rāmāyaṅa. In the second, we will turn to classical Sanskrit poems such as the great narrative works of A[ṅvaghoca and Kālidāsa, and to the latter's famous play, the Abhijāna[ṅkuntala. In the third, we will read from shorter poems, either anthologies or works in the highly prolific [ṅmessenger] genre (we will begin with an early first-millennium anthology in the Prakrit language and end with a messenger poem from the fourteen-century, the Mission of a Goose by Vedānta De[ṅika). Finally, we will take a peek at Telugu poems composed in the sixteenth century and a twentieth-century Tamil novel, Sundara Ramaswamy's Tale of a Tamarind Tree.
