Course/Module description:

In this course we will read a selection from the masterpieces of South Asian civilization.

Course/Module aims:

The purpose of this seminar is to familiarize the students with South Asian civilization through a selection of literary works in several languages (primarily from the classical Sanskrit tradition), to understand these works in their cultural context, and most importantly to enjoy reading from some of the world's greatest literary masterpieces.

Learning outcomes - On successful completion of this module, students should be able to:

To become familiar with South Asian culture and literature, to enjoy reading great literary masterpieces, and to become exposed to cultures other than the student's own.

Attendance requirements(%):

According to divisional regulations

Teaching arrangement and method of instruction: Seminar

Course/Module Content:

The course is to be divided, roughly, to four separate parts. In the first, we will sample from the great Sanskrit epics, the Mahābhārata and the Rāmāyaṇa, one of the basic layers of Indic literature in general and the Sanskrit tradition more specifically. In the second, we will turn to classical Sanskrit poems such as the great narrative works of Aśvaghoṣa and Kālidāsa, which are in close correspondence with the epics. In the third, we will read from another basic layer of this tradition, short Tamil poems that are the basis of the southern tradition but which also had an important impact on the classical Sanskrit tradition. Finally, we will take a peek at the personal devotional bhakti poems written in Tamil and Telugu, another important component of the ocean that is Indic literature.
