Campus: Mt. Scopus

Course/Module Coordinator: Prof. Esther Chazon

Coordinator Email: esther.chazon@mail.huji.ac.il

Coordinator Office Hours: Monday 15:15-16:15

Teaching Staff:

Prof Esther Chazon

Course/Module description:

The 940 scrolls discovered at Qumran along the western shore of the Dead Sea include biblical and parabiblical texts, sectarian rules, eschatological works, apocalypses, wisdom books, hymns and prayers (sectarian and non-sectarian). We will examine a wide selection of sectarian and non-sectarian works found in the Qumran library, consider their broader socio-historical contexts, and read recent scholarly literature on key issues such as the provenance of the scrolls, the literary growth of the ancient works, and the history of ideas, traditions, and Jewish prayer.

Course/Module aims:

1. Learn the Scope of the Qumran Library and of Scrolls Research

- 2. Acquire skills in accessing and reading Dead Sea Scrolls
- 3. Identify sectarian terms, ideas, and rules

4. Identity common traditions and modes of thought shared by different Jewish groups in antiquity.

Learning outcomes - On successful completion of this module, students should be able to:

1. Learn the Scope of the Qumran Library and of Scrolls Research

- 2. Acquire skills in accessing and reading Dead Sea Scrolls
- 3. Identify sectarian terms, ideas, and rules

4. Identity common traditions and modes of thought shared by different Jewish groups in antiquity.

Attendance requirements(%): 80

Teaching arrangement and method of instruction: The course will be team taught by Prof. Esther Chazon and Dr. Michael Johnson. Class time will be spent primarily on in-depth textual study and secondarily, on critical evaluation of scholarship. Assigned Scrolls texts and scholarly articles will be discussed by the students in class. Lectures by the teachers will put the texts studied into their broader cultural context.
