Course/Module description:

Critical review of schools of thoughts and major streams in the study of communication and culture from the 19th century to the end of the 20th century.

Course/Module aims:

We will discuss understanding of communication in modern society, the functions of the media, questions of propaganda and influence, the study of mass media, critique of mass culture, theories of information and cybernetics, structuralism and semiotics, technology, cultural studies, and ethics. These issues will be examined from historiographical and critical perspectives emphasizing the context of the approaches, their intellectual interactions, and the evolution of thinking about communication as an academic field.

Learning outcomes - On successful completion of this module, students should be able to:

Identify and analyze main perspectives in the study of communication Conduct a critical discussion both comparatively and conceptually analyse the historical context of theories with emphasis on key concepts
