Course/Module description:

This course allows students to meet philosophical texts concerning PEP's core subjects. This meeting includes critical analysis of the texts, and writing a reflective discussion about them. The course focuses on the students' reading, analysis and writing abilities, while introducing them with various basic concepts in critical writing.

Course/Module aims:

The course aims to develop the students' philosophical reading abilities, so they could understand philosophical texts in an adequate level, and would be able to pass this knowledge to others clearly. The course will also allow students to develop their skills of reflective discussion, and will give the students the language needed for such discussion.

Learning outcomes - On successful completion of this module, students should be able to:

By the end of the course, the students are expected to be much better at analyzing and criticizing philosophical texts. Other than that, the students might be closer to giving their answers to questions concerning the just society and the good life.
