Course/Module description:

The course introduces German contemporary culture in its different forms including theatre, cinema, photography and visual arts.

Course/Module aims:

The course gives an insight into different sections and media of contemporary German culture. Furthermore it introduces theoretical approaches in order to understand and conceptualize German postwar culture.

Learning outcomes - On successful completion of this module, students should be able to:

- contextualize and analyze German culture, film and theater
- compare and evaluate cultural changes and developments in German and German speaking countries
- reflect the importance of culture for (shifting) identities
- read and understand theoretical concepts of culture

Attendance requirements(%):

80

Teaching arrangement and method of instruction: The course will be held online in asynchronous and synchronous teaching. Students have to watch online lectures and audiovisual essays in preparation for each session. In addition the course is based on key texts from German media theory, social science, communications and critical theory, which students prepare for the meetings. The post-war development of German culture, film and theatre will be discussed through influential works (theatre, film, and visual arts), technologies (photography, film), and theories. Students contribute with different tasks: introducing a theatre play, film artwork or artist for an online exhibition, and writing a review about a play, film or artwork.
